

OUR PRODUCTS

Susanne Kaufmann

Susanne Kaufmann organic treats, a pure natural, active cosmetic made according to strict ecological principles. The proportion of active plant extracts from wild collection and organic farming is particularly high in all Susanne Kaufmann products.

Redken

Beginning in 1960, Redken revolutionized the professional salon business by introducing the concept of protein reconditioning. Based on evidence that hair is composed primarily of proteins, and can absorb topically applied proteins, Redken developed new protein based products. Salons were suddenly able to condition hair internally and for the long-term rather than solely camouflage damage.
